Cops have lead in Facebook target's death

Upper Darby police said yesterday they are close to arresting one of the men they say is involved in the shooting of Facebook murder plot target Corey White.

White was killed Monday evening after two men in a carjacked vehicle pulled up to the 5100 block of Hadfield Street in West Philadelphia. One man got out and shot White in the chest, police said.

In June, White was the subject of an alleged Facebook murder-for-hire plot by London Eley, his child's mother, but police are not sure whether the incidents are connected.

"We are working very hard on investigating the carjacking and we feel very strongly that we have the identity of the man who did the carjacking, but we haven't charged him yet," Upper Darby Police Superintendent Michael Chitwood said yesterday.

According to police, the vehicle was stolen from behind a 69th Street movie theater less than an hour before White's murder. The car was later found on fire in an Upper Darby industrial park. ● ALEX WIGGLESWORTH

Geeks unite for first Geek Awards

● Categories range from local podcasts to comics ● Creator says Philly embraces its geeks ● Nominees specialize in the cool and the absurd

Jill Sybesma does not look like your typical geek. No pocket protector, tape on her glasses, or glasses, period. But she is among a group of innovators and artists being celebrated for their contributions to the city.

On Friday, Philadelphia tech blog Geekadelphia and the Academy of Natural Sciences are teaming up to present Philly's first-ever Geek Awards. With more than 50 nominees in 14 different categories, the awards range from local podcasts to comics.

"It's a chance to show off our geeky collections here at the Academy and become the place to go for geeky events," explained Sybesma, the Adult Programs Coordinator of the Academy.

Eric Smith, founder of Geekadelphia, first came up with the awards with co-founder Tim Quirino, as a way to acknowledge and honor local achievements that were not recognized on a large scale.

The categories for awards were chosen due to the blog's expertise. Founded in 2006, Geekadelphia started their website as a way to blog their "geeky misadventures." What started with filming themselves dressed up as storm troopers turned into a channel for Philadelphia tech news, with over 3,000 visits a day.

"There are a ton of communities here in Philly that embrace the geeks" Smith said. "I'm proud to run an outlet that supports people doing cool things."

Organizers are taking the night seriously, too. "Think of it as the local Daytime Emmy of the Webby Awards" the event's website informs.

▶ "Great thing about the 'geek' community ... we all support one another. Rather than nip at each other competing, we embrace each others' work," said Geekadelphia founder Eric Smith.

Contributions to the city

The nominees were not chosen for obscure achievements in the geek community, but rather for events and contributions that impact the city as a whole.

John Bilotta is nominated for the creation of the Philly Beer Week app. The app was used this year to navigate events, view details and build personal schedules. Users were able to view events by distance and organize them by category, or by when the event was scheduled. ● METRO/YD

Firebomb attempt fizzles out

CENTER CITY. Police are investigating a failed firebomb attempt at the Fraternal Order of Police headquarters last night.

A witness on the 1300 block of Spring Garden Street heard the sound of glass breaking shortly after 5 a.m. and reported seeing a person standing in front of the building, tossing a fiery object through the shattered windows. The fire was self-contained and no one was injured. ● METRO/AW

Teen drove 100 mph in fatal crash, DA says

Bail set at $500,000 for Ambler 19-year-old ◐ Two teens in his car died in Aug. 6 accident ◐ Officials say alcohol found in and around the vehicle

Bail for an Ambler teenager charged with vehicular homicide in a crash that killed two other teens was set at $500,000 yesterday.

Connor James McNicholas, 19, was charged by Montgomery County prosecutors in the Aug. 6 crash off Whitmer Road in Horsham. Authorities claim McNicholas had a blood alcohol content of .117 and was traveling between 97 and 103 miles per hour when the car he was driving veered off the road and struck several trees.

Authorities said McNicholas and his four passengers had left a party where alcohol was being served.

▶ McNicholas

405 ft.
Distance between the point where McNicolas first lost control of the vehicle to where it finally stopped, prosecutors said.

"In and around the vehicle, after the crash, we found a bottle of Captain Morgan Rum, also found a bottle of brandy," said Montgomery County District Attorney Risa Vetri Ferman.

Robert Nagle, 19, and Edward Coombs, 19, were declared dead at the scene due to head injuries. McNicholas and two other teens suffered minor injuries.

McNicholas was arraigned yesterday before Magisterial District Judge Paul Leo. Defense attorney Peter Scuderi said the family is expected to post bail, but he declined to comment on the allegations against his client.

"He's certainly no risk of flight. He's a student at Temple [University]. He's on the golf team, no prior record, and there's a lot of support from the community," Scuderi said. "He's also very upset about what has happened. Nobody's happy here."

Indians rally in protest against govt. corruption

Protests swelled across India yesterday in support of a self-styled Gandhian anti-corruption campaigner fasting to death in jail, with Prime Minister Manmohan Singh's struggling government at a loss over how to end the standoff.

Singh, 78, who is widely criticized as out of touch, dismissed the fast by Anna Hazare as "totally misconceived," sparking outrage as lawmakers cried "shame."

"It is a wake-up call for all of us unless we put our house in order," said Arun Jaitley, a leader of the opposition Hindu nationalist Bharatiya Janata Party.

15K

Spurred by messages on social networking sites, such as on Twitter and Facebook, at least 15,000 thronged to one protest site in central Delhi alone.

"The people of this country are becoming restless," continued Jaitley.

The squat and slight 74-year-old Hazare fasted as thousands of his followers gathered outside the jail, the latest development in a crisis that saw him arrested Tuesday. He then refused to leave jail after the government ordered his release.

Hazare, who has struck a nerve with millions of Indians by demanding tougher laws against rampant corruption, had insisted he wants the right to return to a city park where he had originally planned to publicly fast, before he leaves jail.

The arrest and sudden about-turn to release him appeared to confirm a widespread feeling that Singh's government is too riddled with scandal to govern Asia's third-largest economy. REUTERS

Libyan rebels close in

ZAWIYAH, LIBYA. Libyan rebels launched an assault on Zawiyah's oil refinery yesterday to drive the last of the forces loyal to Muammar Gaddafi out of the city west of Tripoli and tighten their noose around the capital.

After 41 years of supreme power, 69-year-old Gaddafi seems isolated. Rebel forces are closing in from the west, south and east cutting off his Tripoli stronghold on the Mediterranean shore. Gaddafi's whereabouts are not known.

In Zawiyah, which controls the western highway linking Tripoli to Tunisia, Gaddafi forces were holding the refinery and harassing rebels in the city with shelling and sniper fire. REUTERS

FDA sued over new labels

NEW YORK. Four big cigarette-makers sued the Food and Drug Administration, seeking to void as unconstitutional new graphic labels and advertisements that warn consumers about the risks of smoking.

The lawsuit — by Reynolds American Inc.'s R.J. Reynolds unit, Lorillard Inc., Liggett Group LLC and Commonwealth Brands Inc. — said the warnings required no later than Sept. 22, 2012, would force cigarette makers to "engage in anti-smoking advocacy" on the government's behalf. REUTERS

New info points to cover-up at tabloid

Letter says former editor Andy Coulson, hired later as PM Cameron's spokesman, allowed hacking Means many more knew about practice

New evidence of hacking at Rupert Murdoch's News of the World points to a four-year cover-up by the company and intensifies focus on Prime Minister David Cameron's judgment in hiring an ex-editor who may now face criminal prosecution.

A letter written in 2007 by ex-royal reporter Clive Goodman says former editor Andy Coulson, who went on to become Cameron's spokesman, banned talk in editorial meetings of phone-hacking but not the practice itself — which Goodman said was common.

If true, Goodman's allegations would mean that Coulson lied not only to Britain's parliament but also under oath as a witness in a 2010 criminal trial,

"If I'd known then all the things I know now then obviously I would've taken different decisions."
CAMERON, ON HIRING COULSON

when he repeatedly denied that there was a culture of phone-hacking at the News of the World.

It would also imply that many more senior figures at the News of the World knew about the illegal news gathering practice, casting doubt on repeated statements of ignorance by executives.

The scandal has already caused the resignation of several company executives and two of Britain's top policemen, and forced Murdoch to shut down the News of the World and drop a cherished $12 billion bid for pay-TV broadcaster BSkyB. REUTERS

Back to court

A British parliamentary committee investigating the scandal is very likely to recall News Corp. executive James Murdoch in person after receiving further statements that cast doubt on his previous testimony. "I think it is very likely that we will want to put those points to James Murdoch," the committee head said.

Britain urges aid for Somalia famine

Britain said yesterday that 400,000 children could starve to death in Somalia if the international community doesn't ramp up its response to the famine there, and pledged a further $48 million to aid children and livestock owners. Aid agencies are calling this the worst drought in decades to hit Somalia, Kenya and Ethiopia. "We think the response around the world has been inadequate, dangerously inadequate," said Andrew Mitchell, Britain's International Development Secretary. REUTERS

Some rich lead way, but will anyone follow?

Warren Buffett and Howard Schultz want to change the conversation about how to fix the United States' economic woes. But their solutions — more taxes on the rich and a boycott on political donations — risk falling on deaf ears among fellow business leaders.

Few high-profile decision-makers have publicly supported their pleas so far — and most in their target audiences decline to even discuss it, lest they get dragged into the debate.

That isn't the case outside the corporate elite.

"Those of us who have had great financial success, whether we are millionaires or billionaires, really have an obligation to pay more taxes."

Letterman threatened

An Internet jihadist has called for the death of comedian David Letterman by the hands of Muslims in America, according to a report by Stars and Stripes.

Umar al-Basrawi, a frequent contributor to an online Islamic jihadist forum, is believed to be behind the post ordering Muslims to "cut the tongue of this lowly Jew and shut it forever."

Letterman had joked about Osama bin Laden and a senior al Qaeda leader who was killed in an airstrike. It didn't go over too well. METRO

THE WORD

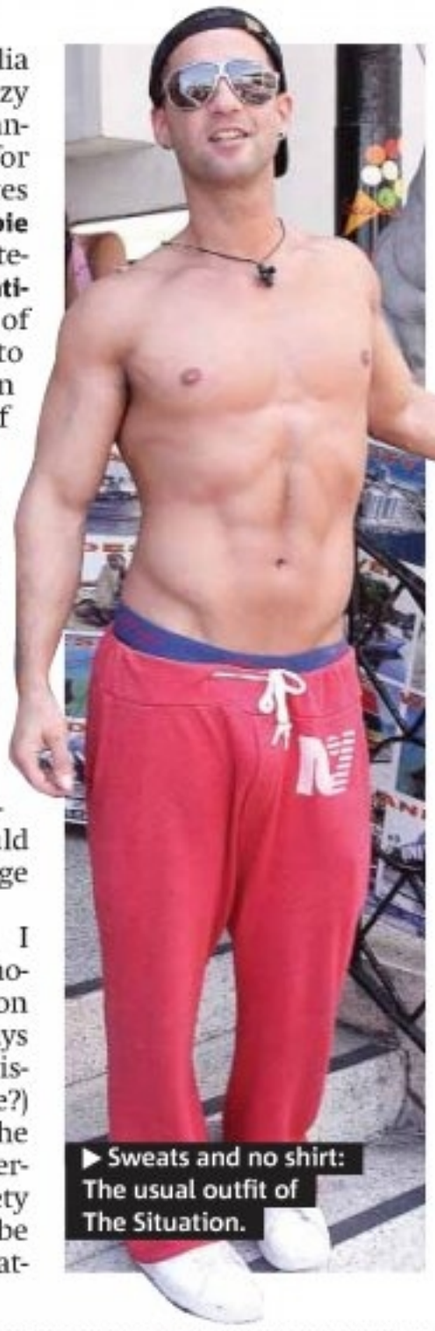
Metro's Dorothy Robinson shares her take on the world of gossip @dorothyatmetro dorothy.robinson@metro.us

But all he wears is Ed Hardy?

Yesterday, the media was in a giant tizzy after clothing manufacturer for wealthy suburbanites everywhere, Abercrombie and Fitch, released a statement asking Mike Sorrentino (a.k.a The Situation of "Jersey Shore" fame) to not wear their clothes in return for a large sum of money.

"We believe this association is contrary to the aspirational nature of our brand, and may be distressing to many of our fans," the company said in the release. The statement added that the retailer is "deeply concerned that Mr. Sorrentino's association with our brand could cause significant damage to our image."

Here's the thing: I looked at hundreds of photos taken of The Situation by Getty Images (who says that journalism degree isn't working out for me?) and not once was he snapped wearing Abercrombie and Fitch. Ninety percent of his wardrobe seems to be Ed Hardy (naturally), or he chooses to wear no shirt at all.



▶ Sweats and no shirt: The usual outfit of The Situation.

The Abercrombie execs are reportedly referring to the fact that he wore a pair of lime-green A&F track pants during last week's episode. But it was such a brief incident; it's hard to think they could be so upset. Besides, A&F created and sold a T-shirt with the words "The Fitchuation" last year. It sounds like something is rotten in overpriced khaki city.

"It's a clever PR stunt and we'd love to work with them on other ways they can leverage 'Jersey Shore' to reach the largest youth audience on television," a spokesperson for "Jersey Shore" network MTV told The Wall Street Journal.

The phrase "aspirational nature of our brand" should have tipped everyone off. What is the aspirational nature of A&F other than becoming a frat boy who lives for raging keggers?

Gerard Depardieu peed off

French star Gerard Depardieu made quite a stink on a CityJet flight from Paris to Dublin recently. While the plane was delayed on the tarmac, Depardieu asked to use the restroom. After he was refused, the actor reportedly relieved himself in the aisle. "I will only confirm that he, in effect, urinated in the plane," a spokeswoman for the airline says. After the incident, the plane had to return to the gate and was delayed for two more hours for cleaning. What's impressive about this story isn't that he whizzed on the carpet like a not-housebroken wolf-child, but that we all got an update on how Depardieu looks in 2011. Sacre blob!

Talking points

Handler has a celebrity twin

Actress Elizabeth Banks gets mistaken for comedian Chelsea Handler pretty often — and she sometimes doesn't correct people. "A guy walked up to me and said, 'I just love your books. I mean, 'My Horizontal Life.' … I was like, 'Oh, he thinks he's meeting Chelsea Handler.' I couldn't ruin it for him!" the actress said during a visit to Handler's talk show. "I was like, 'It's nice to meet you.' I was just hanging out, being Chelsea, drinking my vodka and having a good time. He couldn't have been happier."

No new judges for 'Idol'

Jennifer Lopez, Steven Tyler and Randy Jackson aren't going anywhere.

The trio of judges will continue to banter, critique and praise another round of wannabe superstars in the 11th season of "American Idol." "Having both Jennifer and Steven return to 'Idol' in 2012 alongside Randy is such a positive reflection on what was a wonderful and hugely successful season last year, and everyone is delighted," said Simon Fuller, "American Idol" creator and executive producer, in a statement. Lopez and Tyler both made their debut at the "Idol" judges table last year; Jackson has been doling out advice on the show since its inception. Host Ryan Seacrest will also be back on the show, set to return Jan. 22.

Rose McGowan: 'I'm a fighter, what can I say?'

Why the 'Conan' star is a 'Scrappy Doo' in her action scenes At risk of injury, she'll still try to save a scene

In "Conan the Barbarian," Rose McGowan ditches her usual glam look to portray Marique, a slithering, blade-wielding sorceress out to help her father (Stephen Lang) raise the dead and take over the world. The part called for hours in the makeup chair and plenty of swordplay — not that McGowan is complaining, mind you. Metro sat down with the always outspoken actress to chat about risking injury on set, the future of the "Red Sonja" remake and fighting above her weight class.

You got your start with "The Doom Generation" ...

So you've seen my breasts. Odd now, sitting across from me, right? It's occasionally what pops into my head when someone says, "I loved 'The Doom Generation.'" We're on unequal footing now.

In "Conan the Barbarian," you get to play with some pretty fun weapons.

That's fun, great fun. I think just as a girl I'm so consistently underestimated, especially because I weigh, like, 103 pounds. People treat you like you're this little doll. I'm like, my brain — which I think is why I'm always so injured — is not in line with what my body is like. So I'm like Scrappy Doo out there, fighting the big guys, which is why I always wind up getting hurt, because I have this unfortunately delicate frame.

SIMON VARSANO

Might I suggest you should do some dramas instead?

I just did one! Although actually I got the crap beaten out of me for about two weeks straight by my husband in the movie, now that I think about it. It was hard not going, "I'm going to kick your ass now," because I'm used to that instead of just taking it like a mouse.

So do the injuries mean you're looking for fewer genre roles?

I will always. I'm a fighter, what can I say? I love flying on wires and things being blown up around me. That's the fun part of what I do. "What did you do at work today?" "Well, I flew over a 30-foot wall with a giant mushroom cloud explosion behind me. Half my hair burned off, but it looked fantastic!"

Q&A

With you being in "Conan," does this mean you can't be "Red Sonja"?

I can't do that based on my injury. It's not worth it. It's not worth paralysis — being that I was paralyzed in my right arm from a stunt gone wrong. There's points where you're like, "OK, there are real-life situations and there are movie situations." There was a huge camera up on a crane — this was on "Death Proof" — and it was supposed to swing its arm, and out of the corner of my eye I saw it just falling, just swooping really fast. I should've just ducked out of the way, but I didn't want to ruin the shot, so I just turned my head to side and just laughed. And it literally just whipped through my hair. It would've probably decapitated me.

Get 'LA Ink'ed tonight on TLC

TLC's "LA Ink" was on hiatus for almost eight months, and cast member Corey Miller used his time away from production to catch up with his loved ones and work on his own L.A.-based business Six Feet Under, a hybrid tattoo parlor and store which sells his artwork and designs.

"I'm really happy to be back home spending time with my family, especially the kids. I bring them to school every morning, but I just can't do that when I'm filming," Miller says. "Now I'm expanding my own business and attending to my own clients away from the stress of the camera."

More info

Visit Miller's online shop at www.sixfeetunder.com or follow him on Twitter at @OGCoreyMiller.

While being a reality TV star was never an easy job for the reluctant Miller (he famously walked out at the end of the first half of Season 4, a dramatic departure which he says was totally unscripted), he admits that there are some perks. "I was a little wary and guarded as I was not sure if I could be myself on TV," Miller remembers. "But at the end of the day, my work is being recognized."

10 Reasons to cool off at the movies this weekend

2 'Conan the Barbarian' Comic-book movie season is winding down, but here's one last treat before we dive into self-serious Oscar-bait autumn: Jason Momoa plays the ancient hero out to avenge his slain father.

3 'One Day' Two friends, 20 years, one day. That's the simple set up of this adaptation of the modern classic written by David Nichols. Em (Anne Hathaway) and Dex (Jim Sturgess) meet at college and grow together and apart through the '90s and the aughts.

4 'Spy Kids: All the Time in the World in 4D' Here's a game: What do Jessica Alba, Jeremy Piven and Joel McHale have in common? This movie. Which one of these doesn't belong? Jeremy Piven. Because we don't like him.

5 '30 Minutes or Less' Jesse Eisenberg explores his less-geeky side as a stoner pizza delivery guy who's forced to rob a bank by trash-talking lowlifes played by Danny McBride and Nick Swardson.

6 'The Help' Emma Stone is en fuego this summer with her third release in two months, this time as a writer who records the lives of African-American domestic servants in the Deep South of 1963.

7 'Glee: The 3D Concert Movie' Put this in the same category as the Jonas Brothers' 3-D movie and that Bieber movie, and break out the jazz hands!

8 'Final Destination 5' Slowly but surely catching up to the "Saw" franchise, the kids in this movie may cheat death, but they will probably not escape lukewarm critical reviews.

9 'The Change-Up' Body-switching comedies come around, oh, every three years or so, but this one starring Jason Bateman and Ryan Reynolds might be one of the first to offer plenty of raunch along the way.

10 'Rise of the Planet of the Apes' Rather than a remake of the 1960s classic or the 2001 Tim Burton disaster, this "Apes" film shows the origins of a global primate takeover, co-starring James Franco and Freida Pinto. METRO

Must-see

'Fright Night'

We'd put money on Colin Farrell showing up Robert Pattinson in the hunky vampire department. In "Fright Night," he plays the smoldering vamp Jerry, who lives next to a high school senior (Anton Yelchin) who vows to take him out. METRO

Where to go & what to do

Oktoberfest arrives early at McGillin's

We've always admired McGillin's dedication to drinking holidays (from what we can tell, St. Paddy's Day preparations begin March 18, 11 a.m.). Starting Monday, they'll be featuring German and pumpkin beers, as well as a special menu with seasonal treats such as apple and potato dumplings. 1310 Drury St. www.mcgillins.com

Mommy & Me Happy Hour

Memphis Taproom gets that sometimes juice boxes at the park just don't cut it. Every Monday from 1-3 p.m., parents are invited to catch up over $3 cask beers, while kiddos can swap yesterday's favorite book or toy for a new one. 2231 E. Cumberland St. www.memphistaproom.com

Twisted Tail

This new Headhouse Square restaurant also acts as a live music venue, with an upstairs "Juke Joint" performance space. Not that chef Michael Stevenson's menu isn't reason enough to visit: Dry-aged "cowboy steaks," Kettle Chip-crusted crab cakes and a veggie shepherd's pie are just a couple of the hearty offerings. 509 S. Second St. www.thetwistedtail.com

La Tomatina menu at Amada

In honor of La Tomatina Festival — a seriously big tomato food fight in Spain that, for some reason, Philly hasn't adopted — Amada is serving up an heirloom tomato tasting menu. Today through Aug. 25, stop by for the four-course feast ($55). 217-219 Chestnut St., www.amadarestaurant.com METRO

Cocktail of the week

Grey Goose Jus de Rouges

What's in it

- 2 parts Grey Goose Le Citron Vodka
- 3 large basil leaves
- 1-2 slices peeled ginger
- 1 chunk of watermelon
- ½ part simple syrup
- ½ part fresh lime juice
- Ginger ale

How to make it

In a cocktail shaker, muddle basil leaves with ginger slice, watermelon chunk and simple syrup. Add ice, vodka and lime juice. Shake well and strain into a rocks glass filled with ice. Top with ginger ale. Garnish with remaining watermelon chunk and basil leaves.

Two choices, both lousy

RE: "THIS IS NOT A CAPITALISM": We only have a choice between Democrats and Republicans, and both usually don't have our best interests in mind. The reason there are only two parties is because it costs a ridiculous amount of money to run a campaign, and if someone doesn't have the support of either the Democratic or Republican party, they can't afford it. However, the Tea Party is not a third party at all, it is an extension of the Republican party.

MAX A. GUARINO, VIA E-MAIL

Perry the hero takes on Fed

My original disdain for Gov. Perry has been greatly tempered by his courageous assault of Ben Bernanke of the Federal Reserve. The only thing more sinister than the pharmaceutical companies pushing dangerous vaccines on our helpless youth is the Federal Reserve, which President Wilson created in a cloud of secrecy, and Goldman Sachs. If Perry is willing to risk his life to lock horns with Bernanke and the Federal Reserve, then we owe him serious consideration. Just remember: Every dollar the U.S. goes into debt makes Goldman Sachs and the Fed richer and our children poorer!

JOSEPH DUPONT, PHILADELPHIA

Campaigning on our taxes

Not content with bleeding taxpayers with his airborne fundraising, Barack Obama managed to saddle us with the cost of this week's campaign swing through Iowa in a government-owned bus. It costs $181,757 an hour to fly Air Force One. Add to that a cargo plane to carry the Marine One chopper, and taxpayers shell out more for these $35,000-a-plate fundraising trips than he adds to his 2012 coffers.

TOM SULLIVAN, VIA E-MAIL

Check please, tax warriors

RE: "STOP CODDLING THE RICH": What fraud! Obama's oligarch club of billionaires who fund his campaign and in turn reap billions of our tax dollars through special, back-room deals and regulations are the ones pushing this charade. If they really wanted to pay more, all they have to do is — like Pat Buchannan said — cut a check for $5 billion or so and send it to the federal government. There's a postal address for this purpose in Hyattsville, Md. DAVID BAKER, VIA E-MAIL

Horoscope

♌ Leo July 23-Aug. 22. A chance comment from an associate might put you on the track of resolving a difficult situation that has been bugging you, and which no one has been able to deal with.

♍ Virgo Aug. 23-Sept. 22. What you truly want to achieve is within the realm of possibility. However, the important thing to remember is to make certain that your goal is meaningful and not frivolous.

♎ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23. If you're thinking of taking on something big, first line up all of the helpers you can muster. You're fortunate right now, but your best results will come from group involvements.

♏ Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22. As long as you're willing to work for what you get and don't leave anything up to chance, you can make noticeable improvements in conditions that relate to your holdings and income.

♐ Sagittarius Nov. 23-Dec. 21. It's not like you to sit in the corner and be a wallflower; so don't start now, regardless of your reasons. Something nice could develop through someone you meet for the first time.

♒ Aquarius Jan. 20-Feb. 19. Strive to be as flexible as possible where your important plans are concerned. You'll succeed if you don't restrict your ability to maneuver.

♓ Pisces Feb. 20-March 20. Try to devote the greater portion of your time and attention to matters that are materially meaningful to you. It is in these areas where your luck will be the strongest and most powerful.

♈ Aries March 21-April 19. Think for yourself so that you can get off to a good start doing what you want. The course you set for yourself is likely to be the one you'll follow.

♉ Taurus April 20-May 20. You can gain the upper hand on your financial picture by being assertive and by relying on your own instincts and timing when it really counts.

♊ Gemini May 21-June 20. If you are on the verge of announcing a new endeavor, this might be the perfect day to get started. Results could exceed your expectations.

♋ Cancer June 21-July 22. It's highly likely that you will be the one who has the edge over the other guy. However, don't take this for granted, get careless and give the edge to someone else. BERNICE BEDE OSOL

Jeremy talks: Test results not cancer

‘Everything came back negative,’ false lymphoma scare ◗ Nightmare over for Maclin ◗ Cleared to resume football activity, hopeful for Week 1

Quoted

“I wanted to keep it private until I knew for sure what was going on and the Eagles were amazing. ... They were like family during this.”

“I’m blessed by God. Today was a sigh of relief. They’ll release me to play football but we have to wait a little more until I’m healed from the procedure last week.”

MACLIN, TO FOXSPORTS.COM

GETTY IMAGES

▶ Maclin has been cleared to resume football activities after a cancer scare.

Mystery solved.

Eagles receiver Jeremy Maclin broke his silence yesterday and told FOXSports.com that he is fine and ready to get back on the football field.

Maclin was being tested for lymphoma, a form of cancer, but the final test result came back negative. The Eagles confirmed that he has been cleared to return to football activity. The team is confident he’ll be ready for the opener.

“I was tested for everything and every single test came back negative,” Maclin told Jay Glazer over at FOXSports.com. “I don’t have mono, I don’t have AIDS, leukemia, all the things people were guessing on, there was nothing. I was being tested for lymphoma and thank God everything has come back negative.”

Maclin began showing bizarre symptoms back in February and March, including rapid weight loss, a lack of energy and iron anemia. Last week, doctors removed lymph nodes from his abdomen. Maclin said he’ll have to wait to heal from that procedure before he can go full speed.

“It was all caused by an inflammatory virus, something that just runs its course through your body or you can treat with medicine,” Maclin told FOXSports.com. “I didn’t need medicine. It’s just something I had to deal with.”

Other guys

With Maclin back and ready to go, keep an eye on how the Eagles use the rest of their receivers.

- Riley Cooper (on left) The second-year pro has long been a favorite of Mike Vick. Will they try to integrate him more into the offense? Or use him solely as a red-zone target?
- Jason Avant Might have best hands on team, but did drop a few would-be TDs in 2010. Will he see more reps as a flanker? Or keep his role as the go-to slot receiver.

In the news

Hurricanes in a world of trouble

Poor Al Golden. The former Temple coach has been left to clean up a colossal mess, after a Yahoo! Sports report showed a booster had provided improper benefits to 72 football players and other athletes at Miami from 2002-2010.

Eagles at Steelers tonight, 8 (FOX)

3 things we’re watching

1 How many reps for Shady? LeSean McCoy was limited in the team’s last practice. Andy Reid said it was because he wanted to evaluate the other backs on the roster. Expect McCoy to carry the load in the first quarter, then give way to a healthy dose of Ronnie Brown and Dion Lewis.

2 King’s throne. King Dunlap is starting at right tackle, but it will be interesting to see how long of a leash he is on. Austin Howard has shown flashes, and has seen work with the ones in camp. Evan Mathis is also working his way up.

3 Sloppy seconds. The Steelers hired a new secondary coach, Carnell Lake, after getting burned by the Packers in the Super Bowl. Now, let’s see if they — or anyone in the NFL — can keep up with DeSean Jackson, who will be seeing his first action of the preseason.

Flyers switching up venue

The Flyers have moved their annual rookie scrimmage to the Wells Fargo Center. The game is slated for Sept. 15 at 5 p.m.

The event, pitting the Flyers’ rookies up against the Washington Capitals’ rookies, will mark the end of the team’s rookie and prospect camp. Training camp begins on Sept. 17.

The game is free and open to the public. METRO

Is job fit for a King? Eagles sure hope so

▶ Right tackle under microscope tonight ▶ Dunlap looks to make most of chance ▶ Must protect Vick

When the bright lights go on tonight at Heinz Field, the spotlight will inevitably be on Michael Vick.

It always is.

But peer in front and to the right for a second. There you'll find a player auditioning for the most important position on the entire team.

With Ryan Harris and Winston Justice injured, King Dunlap will be responsible for protecting Vick's blindside. In many ways, this will be an audition for the 6-foot-9 tackle.

"It's an opportunity, right?," coach Andy Reid said. "What more can you ask for being a football player? You're given an opportunity to work with the ones, so you go in and try to capture the moment."

Dunlap has seen reps with the first-team offense throughout training camp. Still, he recognizes the importance of making a good impression in Pittsburgh.

Remember me?

Dunlap had a roller coaster 2010 season. His biggest compliment came when Reid threw him in for an ineffective Winston Justice in the playoff loss to the Packers. Here is what happened:

- Flag football
  Early in the fourth quarter, Justice had been flagged for three penalties on two plays. That's when Reid pulled his starter.
- Clay pigeon
  Justice had struggled all game trying to stop Clay Matthews, who recorded three sacks, one sack.

"I'm going to try to take full advantage of the opportunity and try to lock that spot down while I can," Dunlap said.

When Jason Peters went down in Week 5 last season, Dunlap was the man Reid put his faith in. While he gave up three sacks in that game, Dunlap wound up starting five games for the Eagles, including three at right tackle.

Once again, Reid is trusting the King.

"Listen, King's a good athlete and it's just a matter of him getting back into football shape and learning the new techniques," said Reid. "And he's played pretty good football the last couple of days in that starting role."

Phillies place Polly on the disabled list

Third baseman out with sports hernia Team puts Polanco on 15-day DL Ruiz has testicle contusion

The Phillies confirmed the inevitable yesterday and placed Placido Polanco on the 15-day disabled list.

Polanco hasn't played since Aug. 6 when he suffered a sports hernia. The third baseman also missed 19 games in July while dealing with lower-back inflammation.

The 35-year-old had been contemplating surgery to fix the problem, but opted against it. The procedure would likely end his season.

"If I have surgery, I'm out for the year," Polanco told the team's website.

Polanco

In 89 games, Polanco is batting .275 with four home runs, 11 doubles and 40 RBIs. He was voted to start the All-Star Game, but had to sit out due to injury.

The Phils called up reliever Michael Schwimer from Triple-A Lehigh Valley, while placing injured starter Joe Blanton on the 60-day DL.

Phils catcher Carlos Ruiz was also out of the lineup last night after taking a foul ball to the groin. He was diagnosed with a left testicle contusion. METRO

HAVE YOU HAD
EMPHYSEMA FLARE-UPS?
Taking A Statin Pill May Help.

The Temple Lung Center is conducting a clinical trial to find out if a statin pill, used to reduce cholesterol and prevent heart disease, can also help reduce the number and severity of emphysema flare-ups.

TO BE A PART OF THIS TRIAL YOU MUST:
- Have emphysema
- Be 40 to 80 years of age
- Be a current or ex-smoker
- Not be taking statins

You may receive a statin pill or a placebo (an inactive substance) and medical tests, including breathing and blood tests, at no cost during the trial.

The trial consists of 4 to 6 visits per year to the research facility, Temple Lung Center, for up to 2 years. You may receive $100 for the first visit and $50 for each following visit.

For more information, call 215-707-4260 or e-mail breathe@temple.edu

Expect to see Holmes in leg warmers and heels this fall

Holmes

When Katie Holmes was in town last week promoting her latest — the horror film "Don't Be Afraid of the Dark," helmed by Guillermo Del Toro, which opens on Aug. 26 — we couldn't help asking the actress about Holmes and Yang, the clothing line she co-designs with Jeanne Yang.

What can we expect next from Holmes and Yang?
We have a fall collection that just arrived at Barneys. Our colors are orchid, black and cream. We're also at Harvey Nichols right now. We're working on a small resort capsule. We're developing a red suede jacket that I'm really excited about. It's a cool blazer — skinny arms, helpful to all women. We took an Asian-inspired fabric and we kind of re-created the background. We're also offering a couple [of] cool little slip dresses.

The looks or trends for this fall?
I like leg warmers in high heels. I'm really into green for fall. Also, I love a three-piece suit.

Hacker traces laptop thief using Facebook information

▶ Prepare your computer for possible theft.

One London teenager accused of stealing a laptop during the recent London riots certainly didn't do his homework on who he was robbing.

Greg Martin, an IT security specialist and former FBI and NASA employee, came home to his West Kensington apartment last Wednesday to find that his place had been ransacked and his MacBook Pro was stolen.

Martin, who runs a blog called InfoSecurity 2.0, had previously installed an open source tracking software called Prey on his computer. The free software "lets you keep track of your phone or laptop at all times, and will help you find it if it ever gets lost or stolen," the product's website states.

Once the robber had finally logged on to the laptop, Martin gathered evidence against the thief.

After two hours of remotely watching the laptop thief surf the Internet, Martin was able to collect information on the man's name, school, address, IP address, Internet service provider, wireless access point and Facebook ID number.

The thief's Facebook information was the deciding piece of information for Martin — he sent the information on to the London Metro police.

After details about the thief — identified as Soheil Khalilfar, 18 — were released to the police, the man's apartment was raided and the laptop was returned to Martin.

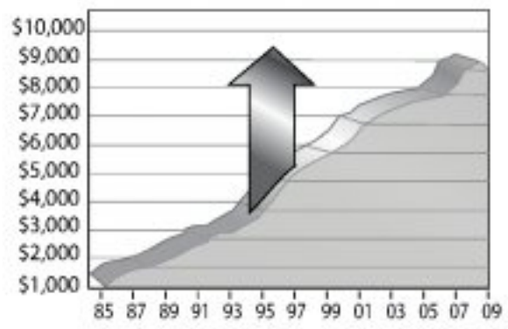
Credit Card Debt?

Solutions that can help you get out of debt.

Tom Hill
CGA STAFF WRITER

Every three minutes another person falls behind on credit card debt. It's no wonder, since every major credit card company has nearly doubled the minimum monthly payment on consumers' bills. Federal Regulators forced the change because of their concern about the growing mountain of consumer debt, which stands at $2.17 trillion. Many consumers can only pay the minimum payment, which can take up to 30 years to pay off. Now, relief is in sight for millions of Americans.

U.S. CREDIT CARD DEBT PER HOUSEHOLD ($)



(Data Source: U.S. Federal Reserve)

CreditGUARD of America, a non-profit licensed debt management service provider, is making a new program available to lower debt payments and become free of all credit card debt in only three to five years. Consumers need only $2,000 or more in total credit card debt and falling behind on any account, to cut their payment by 35% to 50%, and reduce or eliminate interest charges altogether.

Over 200,000 families, located throughout the U.S. have regained financial independence with CreditGUARD's licensed, bonded and insured service. CreditGUARD of America has received high marks in consumer surveys showing high consumer satisfaction and confidence. The CreditGUARD debt management program can lower your monthly payments by hundreds and save you thousands!

One such case is Sandra L. who proclaimed "CreditGUARD cut my monthly payment by $656 and saved me over $29,206.53 in interest. They saved my way of life and gave me back my piece of mind! Now I can see myself on my way to becoming debt free." or Jeffery C. who said "CreditGUARD of America helped me consolidate 3 of my credit cards into one affordable payment. They are now saving me nearly $200 a month. Now I will be debt free in 2 years or less"
